BIGGEST FIREWORKS FACTORY IN WEST DESTROYED BY EXPLOSION

WATCHMAN IS MISSING

SHOCK FELT BY RESIDENTS IN DISTRICTS 20 MILES AWAY FROM REDONDO

REDONDO BEACH, CAL., FEB. 9 — One of the worst blasts in the history of southern California, set off by more than 20 tons of powder and dynamite, sent the biggest fireworks manufacturing plant in the West into absolute nothingness at Redondo Beach shortly before midnight.

A night watchman was reported missing and a 50-year-old woman and an 8-year-old boy were hurt.

The main three story building of the Golden State Fireworks company and 24 smaller buildings and sheds on the grounds were demolished by the terrific blast which was heard and felt for a radius of almost 20 miles.

A survey early today showed:

Business buildings and homes for miles around suffered shattered windows and other damage. Power, communication and gas lines over a wide area were put out of commission. Homes close to the plant were heavily damaged, the roof of one collapsing and injuring Mrs. Minnie Denmore, 50.

Loss of the fireworks plant was estimated at $200,000 by Patrick Lizza, its owner who could give no reason for the blast.

Residents Frightened

Residents for miles around were panic-stricken, many thinking a violent earthquake had struck.

Fire departments from adjoining communities had great difficulty reaching the scene as thousands of autoists, attracted by the blast and ensuing pyrotechnical

NARCOTIC TRADE
IN CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9 — Conducting a sweeping campaign to wipe out alleged illegal trafficking in narcotics, federal agents today announced the arrest of two physicians, two pharmacists and 13 other persons.

Fourteen of the 17 pleaded not guilty in a hearing before United States Commissioner William P. Hohmann. The other three were to enter pleas today.

The doctors arrested were Dr. B. J. Lockley, 47, and Dr. W. N. Sherill, 46, both Negroes. The pharmacists were John E. Hanna, 75, and William Rutman, 30.

The doctors and druggists were charged with selling morphine while the others were charged with selling marijuanna in cigarettes or bulk form.

Federal agents said the arrests were just "the beginning" and indicated that further arrests would be made shortly. Three months of intensive investigation preceded the raids, agents said.

GERMAN PLANES
RESUME DRIVES
ON BRITISH ISLE

LONDON, Feb. 9 — German war planes resumed attacks on shipping off the English and Scottish coasts today.

British planes went aloft and engaged the raiders.

An official announcement stated that one enemy plane, attacked by a Royal Air Force fighter, had been brought down near the Firth of Forth shortly after noon.

Soon afterward, another German plane was sighted off the northeast coast. R. A. F. planes went aloft to engage it.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 — William Dudley Pelley, the so-called "American Hitler" and leader of the silver shirt legion, and his associates, received at least $240,000 during the last eight years, Dies committee investigators disclosed today.

The committee opened the inquiry into the "profits" Pelley and his associates netted through organization of the Silver Shirts and other of the admittedly antisemitic and allegedly pro-Fascist activities, as part of its general effort to bare the huge sums propaganda organizations realize from public contributions.

The investigation into Pelley's affairs revealed 10 different bank accounts and a postoffice account at Asheville, N. C., the committee said. The band accounts include five in Asheville, two in New York, (Continued on Page Four)

URGES OTHERS TO ENTER TEST

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 — Thomas E. Dewey sped westward on the first major swing of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination today, leaving behind him a challenge to all other candidates to enter the Illinois primaries "and let the people choose between us."

Thus far the New York district attorney has been the only Republican candidate to file for a place on Illinois' presidential preference list.

During a five hour stop-over in Chicago, Dewey conferred with Illinois Republican leaders and dined at the home of his cousin and Illinois campaign manager, Leonard C. Reid. He departed at 11:15 last night on the Milwaukee road for a tour of the Northwest, the highlight of which will be a Lincoln Day address at Portland, Ore., Monday night.

RUSH OF BABIES FORCES HOSPITAL TO USE SPEED

CLEVELAND, Feb. 9 — Twenty-seven babies in two days might be too much for some small institutions, but not for Fairview Park Hospital.

If all started Wednesday night, when the maternity ward was full to overflowing with 22 mothers and 23 new babies. (One set of twins was included.)

That was all right. The ward was full, but everything was running smoothly. Then yesterday morning more expectant mothers started arriving. Single rooms were made double rooms and double rooms triple.

When it became apparent that something must be done, someone thought of the hospital's new unfinished wing. The whole staff went to work on the fourth floor; nurses wielded mops; internes hustled beds borrowed from the Cleveland Hospital council.

The fourth floor looked like a newly painted barn before the staff started on it. An hour later it was a maternity ward, the population doing well. At the last count there were 27 babies at Fairview Park. There may be more now.

FORTIFICATIONS TAKEN,
MOSCOW SAYS, BUT
DENIAL VOICED

LONDON, Feb. 9 — A London Daily Telegraph dispatch from Helsinki said today that Finnish officials issued a formal denial of Russian claims that Red army troops breached the Mannerheim Line.

The report said Ukrainian peasants rose up against Soviet rule in the Tarnopol area.

It added that heavy Red army reinforcements were rushed to the district and that a detachment of German gestapo (secret police) crossed into Russian-held Poland and aided in putting down the insurrection.

MOSCOW, Feb. 9 — For the first time in many weeks the Soviet Red army claimed a major victory over Finland today, asserting that 13 Finnish fortifications had been captured, eight of them along the Mannerheim Line in the Carelian Isthmus.

An official war communiqué stated that the Finnish troops suffered "great losses" in heavy fighting north and south of Lake Ladoga.

The communiqué also contained the first Russian mention of fighting in the Summa sector of the Mannerheim Line, and thereby constituted a Soviet admission of the heavy fighting that has been progressing there.

(British press dispatches indicated Soviet troops fought their way into the Mannerheim Line defenses but were expelled after a hand-to-hand battle. The London Daily Mail reported from Stockholm that Finnish troops retreated several miles along an 11-mile front to straighten their

NINE TAKE TESTS FOR PLACES ON ELIGIBLE LISTS

Nine applicants took the examinations given by the Civil Service Commission Thursday night in the Council Chamber at City Hall to be placed on the eligible list for city police and firemen.

Turney Ross, East Union Street, the sole applicant for the police force, also took the examination offered to prospective firemen.

"There are no positions available at present," James Wickens, commission chairman, stated, "but we are desirous of keeping a list of eligible men who can be appointed in the event of an opening or in case the often contemplated enlargement of both services becomes effective."

The grades of those who took the examinations are as follows: Ralph DeLong, 95; Russell Lape, 95; Walter Pickle, 93; Francis McGinnis, 91; Tom Drum, 90; Russell Skaggs, 90; Turney Ross, 87; Merle Lape, 63; Everett Phillips, 39.

Turney Ross' grade on the patrolman's examination was 93.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 — President Roosevelt stated today that President William Green of the American Federation of Labor last October 3 expressed the willingness of his organization to resume labor peace negotiations but John L. Lewis, speaking for the CIO shortly before Christmas, advised the White House he did not think any useful purpose could be served by such resumption at that time.

LOAN FOR FINNS GAINS SUPPORT IN WASHINGTON

LONDON, Feb. 9 — German secret police helped Russian troops crush a revolt in the Ukraine, killing 1,000 persons in the former Polish Ukraine now occupied by Russia, the London News Chronicle reported from Budapest today.

The report said Ukrainian peasants rose up against Soviet rule in the Tarnopol area.

It added that heavy Red army reinforcements were rushed to the district and that a detachment of German gestapo (secret police) crossed into Russian-held Poland and aided in putting down the insurrection.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 — A strong anti-Russian sentiment in the senate today swept legislation for a $20,000,000 export-import bank non-military loan to Finland to be approved by the Senate.

PARIS — For the first time since the last war, the French chamber of deputies met in secret session today for a thoroughgoing debate on the domestic and foreign policies of Premier Edouard Daladier.

BERLIN — "German scouts clashed with a numerically superior group of enemy scouts at Forbach on the Western Front," the German high command announced today, adding that the Germans captured "several prisoners." The war bulletin also stated that the German air force carried out reconnaissance flights over Franco-German border districts without contacting any enemy planes.

TURKS SEIZING NAZI PROPERTY IN MAJOR CITY

Sentinels Posted After Authorities Take Over Krupp Shipyards

21 TECHNICIANS REMOVED

Berlin Believes Activity Is Provoked By Britain And France

ISTANBUL, Feb. 9 — Rising tension gripped the Near East today as Turkish marines held the German-owned Krupp shipyards in Istanbul Harbor after naval authorities dismissed 20 German technicians.

Sentinels were posted at the entrances of the yards and guards were ordered to bar all Germans from the premises.

The discharged Germans had been outfitting two submarines for service at sea with the Turkish navy. The U-boats were being completed in the Krupp Goldern Horn inlet yards.

(In London the Daily Sketch reported that rumors circulated in Istanbul that seizure of the German shipyards would be followed by seizure of other German property in Turkey "sooner or later."

(A Daily Mail dispatch from Ankara said there was a steady German exodus in progress from Turkey, especially among German business men who before the present war "had an exclusive run of the Turkish markets."

(Meanwhile, the British war office denied any official announcement had been made regarding an allied army of 500,000 men, ready for action in the Near East. It was stated that the number of such troops is an official military secret.)

BERLIN, Feb. 9 — German officials failed today to display particular indignation over occupation of German Krupp shipyards at Istanbul by Turkish marines, and contented themselves by terming the move "camouflage for a Franco-British provocative maneuver."

It was stated reliably that the German ambassador to Turkey, Franz Von Papen, is investigating the affair and may lodge a protest with the Ankara government. A German newspaper outburst also was predicted, but authoritative circles predicted a calm settlement.

A German source said the Reich would "refuse to give the British and French an opportunity to manufacture an incident timed to extend the war."

CARS HIT IN ALLEY
The cars of George Jenkins, East Franklin Street, and Roger May, RFD 1, collided Thursday night at an alley intersection. Jenkins was riding west in the alley behind the Cliftona Theatre while May was traveling north behind the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company Store. The front fenders of Jenkins car were damaged, but the May car was not harmed.

G-Men Slap Parole System

BEGINNING their case with little more than a fragment of dirt and the instincts of G-Men, William Henry and Lyle Talbot track down paroled kidnapers in Paramount's fast-moving tale of racketeers of justice, "Parole Fixer," which opens Friday on a double bill with Roy Rogers in "Days of Jesse James" at the Cliftona Theatre. The film is based on J. Edgar Hoover's "Persons in Hiding." Others in the cast include Anthony Quinn, Robert Paige, Virginia Dale and Richard Denning.

Simplicities Of Life Stressed By Dr. Mees

Calling his subject a "trite and foolish topic," Dr. Otto Mees, president of Capital Universal, spoke at the Rotary Club's Thursday luncheon on the theme "Looking Out The Window."

"The deepest things for all of us to make our lives successful as we grow old lie right at our feet and the trouble is that we step over them and never see them," Dr. Mees said attacking the fable of the other pastures which look greener.

"For us the finest thing is to keep in touch with the simplicities of life and leave the complexities to the young."

Dr. Mees reminded the Rotarians that there was a time when windows were not known. Then there came a need for them.

"Someone must have punched a hole through the wall so that he might see out for a vision of that which exists beyond him," he remarked.

"My first thought when I look out of the window," Dr. Mees said, "is not what I see, but why do I look out? It is the desire to be out where something else is."

Security On Inside

That there is a feeling of security on the inside cannot be denied, he continued. "We in America are on the inside of a huge bubble that reflects the storm and tumult in the outside world."

"Yes, there is complacency on the inside. When the cries come from the outside we get first the atrophy gripping our hearts and its time, committing crimes. It is when humanity doesn't know that it is being observed that it is real.

"That is the rare opportunity that comes to teachers and to mothers to see their children after classes have been dismissed or when they are playing in front of the home. They are unobserved and free from restraint and are themselves and human. That is when it is best to see them and plan for them.

Lesson On Business

"You don't conduct your business by what the trade magazines tell you and official reports say. You go out on the street and let your eyes see and your ears hear," he reminded them.

"A window is a funny thing," Dr.

"Windows have two sides and it is usually the slough of humanity that is invited to look in. But sometimes more can be learned by looking in than out."

"The eye, the poets say, is the window of the soul. How very much there is to be learned by looking a man in the eye so that you can see his soul and read what intensity of feeling lies therein. I can learn more from a student than way than from all the grade cards and examination marks put together."

"Windows are funny things. February is a great month for windows. There were two men born this month who looked through windows. They were on different sides though and one looked out while the other looked in. Washington was on the inside and Lincoln on the outside and yet the results were similar because both looked with the same intensity in the same way for the same vision," Dr. Mees concluded.

F. D. R.'S SON OPPOSES THIRD TERM IN OFFICE

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 — Elliott Roosevelt was on record today against a third term for his father.

Following an address before a joint meeting of the Illinois Lumber and Material Dealers' Association, and the Illinois Builders' League in Chicago last night, the President's son was bombarded with questions, the first of which was "will your Dad run again?" he answered:

"I don't know. But all the jobholders want him to. Personally, I think he shouldn't."

Other questions and Elliott's answers were:

"What do you think about the Dies committee?"

"I think the committee has done a very good job and should be continued, even though some members of my family don't agree with me." (He did not name the dissenting members.)

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

There's going to be plenty of music, fun, and entertainment, heading for the stage of the Grand Theatre, on Friday, February 16, when the boys and girls of the Boone County Jamboree appear in person, one day only. Shows will be given matinee and night.

Heading the list of Boone County folk coming here in person will be that sage of Short Creek, Kentucky—Lazy Jim Day, whose tall tales have amused millions of listeners in the little more than one year he has been broadcasting with the Jamboree over the National Station.

Helen Diller, Canadian Cowgirl singer and yodeler, will sing the western songs that have made her such a radio favorite.

The Kentucky Girls, Jo and Alma, will sing the old-time songs and mountain music in their own harmonious style; Kenny Carlson, with "Scrappy O'Brien", will give a fast-moving and clever exhibition of ventriloquism; and

NEW OHIO RADIO SERIES TO LIST LOGAN ELM TALK

"The Romance of Schoenbrunn" the first settlement in Ohio, will be dramatized in a half-hour program over WOSU, Ohio State University, at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, February 13.

The program is a part of the new weekly "Ohio" series, a historical presentation primarily for the school broadcasts division of the university station. The series will use a dramatic narrative form and will be presented with the cooperation of the Ohio Archaeological and History Society, of which Dr. Henry C. Shetrone is director.

The Tuesday broadcast will give the history of Schoenbrunn in Tuscarawas county, where the Moravian Sect established the first Ohio settlement. Dr. Shetrone, who was present when the cemetery was excavated a few years ago, will describe the settlement. C. Wilbert Pettigrew, of the WOSU staff, will act as narrator. William O. Aldridge, also of WOSU, using a "flash-back" technique, dramatizes the series.

On February 20 and February 27, at the same hour, the "Ohio" program will feature "The Historic Logan Elm Speaks" and "Marietta—Mother of the Old Northwest."

Other programs in the School Broadcasts division are: "The Story of Music," with Edwin Stainbrook and the Columbus

Louis To Seek Kayo Early In Godoy Battle

By Pat Robinson

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—"Short and sweet" is Joe Louis' forecast for his 15-round heavyweight championship fight with Arturo Godoy in Madison Square Garden tonight.

"Ain't no use messin' round with him," said Joe with an earnestness that boded no good for the health and happiness of the dauntless Chilean. "I hear this Godoy's pretty tough and I ain't takin' no chances. Can I finish him with one punch, I does so."

It seems everybody in the world—with the exception of Godoy himself—believes Godoy can't possibly win. That is why the Broadway bookies report not a dollar will change hands on a decision even at 20 to 1 but they are handling a ton of dough on the number of rounds the fight will last.

Latest odds quoted are 6 to 1 Godoy won't go the route; 9 to 2 he won't last 10 heats and 3 to 1 he won't answer the bell for the sixth canto.

This is the most one-sided betting affair ever seen for a heavyweight title fight. Yet, despite the fact nobody—except Godoy—gives Godoy a chance to win, Promoter Mike Jacobs assures us the gate will gross at least $100,000, solely because the fight mob wishes to see the style with which Joe, the artist, paints Godoy on the canvas.

Joe's Ninth Defense

This will be Joe's ninth defense of his title and the third time he has defended against a foreigner, the others being Tommy Farr and Max Schmeling. Farr went the route but Nata Mann went out in three rounds, Harry Thomas in five, Schmeling, John Henry Lewis and Jack Roper in one round each; Tony Galento in four and Bob Pastor in 11.

The cauliflower cognoscenti say: "What's this guy got to lick Louis with?" And we relayed this query as tactfully as possible to the hot-headed Chilean.

Godoy makes no secret of his plan of battle. He intends to fight from his usual crouch, get in close and, if possible, weaken Louis with left hooks to the body.

He knows that Louis had a hard time punching down at Galento and Godoy thinks Joe will find it harder to tag him because he's faster than the bear barrel.

Joe likes to soften up an opponent with cutting left jabs and then finish him with terrific left hooks. Godoy claims that when Joe throws the left hook, he raises his right arm, thus leaving himself open for a countering left hook to the body.

None at Head

Arturo declares all of Joe's other opponents tried to beat him by punching to the head but he intends to throw no punches at the Louis skull until he has Joe ready for the finisher.

It's as simple as that—on paper. Arturo may find his plan a little difficult of fulfillment in the ring.

Godoy never has been even knocked down in a fight, much less counted out, but as Louis said when informed of this, "there's a first time for everything." And tonight probably will be the first time for Godoy.

BOBCATS CLOSE TO TOP IN RACE FOR CAGE TITLE

COLUMBUS, Feb. 9—Ohio University stood a step nearer the top in the race for state basketball honors today after annihilating Marietta, 52 to 28, on the latter's floor.

Frankie Baumholtz, flashy Ohio forward, led the Bobcat attack with five field goals and six fouls for a total of 16 points. Ohio led at the half, 23 to 13. It was the Bobcat's 12th victory against four losses.

Wooster continued its winning streak at the expense of Heidelberg. The final score showed the Scots on top of a 70 to 23 count. Toledo University lost its fourth game of the season in play against George Washington University. The final count was 47 to 37 in George Washington's favor.

In other games, Kent State turned back Akron, 33 to 27; Westminster defeated Youngstown, 44 to 37; Wilmington edged out Morehead of Kentucky, 29 to 27. Wittenberg won from Findlay, 49 to 43, and Mansfield Teachers took a close one from Ashland, 31 to 29.

Norman Aronson announced Friday that amateur boxing matches, which will continue each week, will start Monday at 8:15 in a recreation room in the rear of Stone's Grill, South Court Street. The room in which the bouts will be staged was formerly used for dancing. It has been remodeled and will accommodate a large crowd.

Circleville boys who will fight are Matthew Grubb and Roy Birchwell, both former county welterweight titlists; Dempsey Patrick, featherweight titlist, and Jimmy O'Hara, ex-Circleville High pug. Four Columbus boys chosen by Ivan Tipe, well known promoter, will provide the opposition.

Ralph Wallace will serve as referee.

Aronson expects to provide interesting entertainment each week in the new recreation center.

DIZ IN CHICAGO TO TALK SALARY WITH CUB CHIEF

CHICAGO, Feb. 9—Dizzy Dean was to arrive in town today, to do or die for dear old Doan and incidentally do as well as he can for old Diz.

Ostensible, Dean's trip to Chicago was in the interests of Ray Doan's baseball school at Jackson, Miss., where he is a member of the faculty, but the professor was expected to attend a class in arithmetic at the offices of the Chicago Cubs while in town.

Diz and President P. K. Wrigley, it was reported, have come to a salary agreement and the contract signing will be a mere formality.

Dean, who reputedly received $20,000 for his ineffectual pitching last summer, objected to a 50 percent wage cut, diagnosed his arm ailment as due to molar trouble, had a couple of teeth extracted, and demanded more money. Wrigley is reported—the Cubs' policy is not to make public salaries paid—to have acceded to the extent of two or three thousand dollars.

The Cubs yesterday received the signed contract of Bill Rogell, the ex-Tiger shortstop, leaving but four hands outside the fold—Outfielders Hank Leiber and Augie Galan, Pitcher Clay Bryant, and Third Baseman Stan Hack.

FISTIC CONTEST SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY AT 8:15

Norman Aronson announced Friday that amateur boxing matches, which will continue each week, will start Monday at 8:15 in a recreation room in the rear of Stone's Grill, South Court Street.

The room in which the bouts will be staged was formerly used for dancing. It has been remodeled and will accommodate a large crowd.

Circleville boys who will fight are Matthew Grubb and Roy Birchwell, both former county welterweight titlists; Dempsey Patrick, featherweight titlist, and Jimmy O'Hara, ex-Circleville High pug.

Four Columbus boys chosen by Ivan Tipe, well known promoter, will provide the opposition.

Ralph Wallace will serve as referee.

Aronson expects to provide interesting entertainment each week in the new recreation center.

Left Field Occupancy To Be Only Red Change

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9—To all outward appearances the Cincinnati Reds of 1940 will be materially the same in personnel as the Reds of 1939, but, appearances to the contrary, a general reorganization has taken place in the reserve units of the club.

A close inspection of the player list reveals that of the 38 men in the Reds' training camp at Tampa, Florida, a year ago, only 21 are still on the roster. And, upon more investigation, it is revealed that since the close of the last National League season, seven men have been sent on their various ways.

This is unusual for a championship club, but not under the policies of Manager Bill McKechnie and General Manager Warren G. Giles, who believes that championship clubs without replacements soon cease to be championship clubs.

Only change in the regular lineup probably will be in left field.

In Infelder Eddie Joost and Catcher Willard Hersberger, the Reds have two of the best regulars in either league. Joost was worth his weight in gold last year on the occasions he worked into the lineup, while Hersberger stepped in and batted a cool .345 while acting as understudy to Ernie Lombardi.

However, in the other positions, including pitching, the second line strength was not what it should have been, which accounts for the release since the close of the season of three outfielders, Bordagaray, Simmons, and Bon Giovanni; three pitchers, Henry Johnson, Niggle, and Grissom, one first baseman, Les Scarsella.

Hurlers Signed

To replace these men, the Reds have added Pitchers Jim Turner, Joe Beggs, Elmer Riddle, John Hutchings, Lloyd Dietz, Gene Hinrichs, and John Cannon; First Baseman Butch Moran and Milt Galatzer; Infielders Russell Bevill and Damon Phillips; Outfielders Vince DiMaggio, Art Luce, and Mike McCormick; and Catchers Bill Baker and Neil Clifford.

A gradual sifting out of this material will take place. Jim Turner and Joe Beggs can be regarded as fixtures on the mound corps, and it is quite likely that Bill Baker and either Mike McCormick or Vince DiMaggio, or both, will remain. The others will have to depend upon their showings in the training camp. McKechnie always is open minded about those things. For instance, a year ago hardly anybody would have given Gene Thompson a chance to stick. But, the boy, up from Class B, showed enough to stick, then developed into one of the best rookies of the year.

The youngsters will be given every opportunity to show their stuff, as Bill plans to put them into the early exhibition games, unmindful of the results. He feels there is only one way to learn the ability of the new players, and that's to see them in ball games. Without having seen most of the new men, he still feels his ball club has been improved by the additions, mainly because he has confidence that Turner and Beggs will back up the young ones.

WASHINGTON ON TOP IN CLOSING LEAGUE CONTEST

Washington Township and Jackson Township school cage teams closed their regular season's play Thursday evening with the former team winning a 27-14 game on the Washington court. Elliott, tall Washington center, was not in action because of an ouchy ankle. Rife, who substituted at center, scored 10 points for the winners. Bumgarner, high scoring Jackson guard, was stopped on the small court his long shots failing to click.

Jackson girls won 19 to 16 and the reserves gained a 12-9 verdict.

PING PONG TEAM
IN EVEN SPLIT
AT CHILlicothe

Chillicothe and Chillicothe ping pong artists engaged in an interesting match Thursday evening on the Chillicothe tables with the competition ending in a tie.

Members of the Chillicothe team included Liston, Currier, Stonerock, Hill, Marion, Price, Simison, and Schmidt.

The Chillicothe team won a recent match on the Chillicothe Recreation tables, West Main Street, with Chillicotheans as opponents.

BIMELECH LICKS HIS TONGUE AS HE RUNS RACES

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 9—"So help me," exclaimed Jockey F. A. Smith, "he actually sticks his tongue out when he's running, and he licks his lips like as if he's feeling around for a little stray sugar."

Smith was discussing Bimelich, the E. R. Bradley colt, unbeaten in seven starts in 1939, and the top-heavy favorite to win the $7,500 added Kentucky Derby, at Churchill Downs, May 4th.

"I've heard about horses that like to swallow their tongues and nearly choked to death," said Smith, "but I never even heard of one, before I saw this Bimelich, that actually stuck out his tongue, way out, mind you, and kept curling it around his lower face. First time I saw him do it—well, I was afraid he'd bite it off if he lurched suddenly. But he always keeps it out of trouble, just like he keeps himself out of trouble during a race."

"Like most horses," went on Smith, "Bimelich is a sugar hound, only more so. He'd eat a bucketful of it if he could get it. But he doesn't. His trainer doesn't think sugar is much good for a horse, and Bimelich gets only what's boot-legged to him."

"What do I think of Bimelich? Why, he's the greatest horse I ever rode. He seems to pick up speed the farther he goes, instead of tiring and slowing down. How he loves to run! Almost tears the arms out of your sockets when you try to retain him. He's never been put under pressure yet. Someday, if he is, it's likely that the record for that particular race-distance will get itself badly fractured. I say this horse is fast—maybe the fastest we've had in years and always."

"He's the easiest kind of horse to ride. You just jump on and sit, like as if you were in a Pullman coach. Smooth! No jars, no bumps. I really don't have to guide him. He manages himself after the getaway. Sometimes he likes to stay behind for a while, then close with a rush; other times he will jump right out, take the lead, and ask the others to try to catch him. Nobody has, and barring bad luck, he'll be the first to get away."

"Yes, sir," said Smith, in a final burst of confidence, "this Bimelich is one helluva race horse."

LAUGHTON AND WIFE

Charles Laughton and his wife Elsa Lanchester make their first starring appearance together in the Radio Theatre Monday, February 12, as a pair of "buskers" in "Sidewalks of London." A "busker" is a street entertainer who makes a living amusing the crowds

I'm pretty sure nobody will in 1940.

"Bimelich must have velvet feet. When you're riding other horses, you can hear the pound of their feet. But you hardly can hear Bimelich's. Sometimes I'd get curious, not hearing the thud of hooves under me, and I'd actually look down to see if he was moving with his feet, or hitch-hiking on the 20th Century."

"Yes, sir," said Smith, in a final burst of confidence, "this Bimelich is one helluva race horse."

GAS EXPLOSION KILLS MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

Mrs. Mary Kuhns Dies Early In Morning And Miss Veronica Later

The only window shattered in the home was in the upstairs hall directly opposite the bathroom. The glass was thrown on the front porch room and into the yard. A window blind was hurled into a tree in front of the home. East and west walls of the frame residence were both bulged out, especially the west wall.

Frank Phillips and John McElroy of Athens, district manager and district foreman, respectively, were called to Circleville by local gas company officials shortly after the tragedy happened. They remained here until almost 4 a.m. Friday. Other gas company officials came to Circleville Friday to conduct an investigation.

Dan McClain, Circleville manager, said that he had been told that Mrs. Kuhns had lighted the small bathroom heater Wednesday night and that the bathroom door had been closed. It is possible, he said, that the door being closed fanned the flame in the heater causing it to go out. The gas that had poured from the stove had accumulated in the bathroom. It exploded when Mr. Sobers struck his match.

The force of the explosion went from the bathroom through the hall, striking the four persons, it is believed. The force struck the front of the structure and smashed the glass. After hitting the front of the house it spread east and west forcing the walls to bulge. The power with which the explosion hit one of the walls caused a gas line to break, firemen shutting off the gas before any more damage could be done.

The side of the house which Mr. and Mrs. Sobers had gone to inspect has been empty for the last two weeks after removal of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Duffey to Zanesville. Mr. and Mrs. Sobers formerly lived there renting the apartment furnished, but had removed to Park Street. After the Duffys removed, Mr. and Mrs. Sobers, who have their own furniture, considered returning to the residence and had gone to look over the rooms.

Gas Fumes Noticed

Mrs. Kuhns had remarked to neighbors during the morning that she could smell gas fumes so plainly. How long the gas had been escaping is not known.

Firemen went through the residence from top to bottom to ascertain if all gas connections were turned off after the tragedy happened. They locked the home to prevent any curious from entering and to give the gas fumes, if any were left, a chance to escape. The upstairs window that was blown out permitted fresh air to enter the property.

All four persons who figured in the tragedy were widely known in Circleville. Mrs. Kuhns and her daughter were affiliated with St. Joseph's Church. Miss Kuhns had been an officer in Phi Beta Psi sorority and had been employed in the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. office for several years. Mr. Sobers, a former employee of the J. C. Penney Co., and a native of Newark, has been associated with the Pettit Tire Shop, South Court Street, for the last year. Mrs. Sobers, a former stenographer for Judge Meeker Terwilliger before he assumed the Common Pleas Court bench, is employed as a secretary in the Farm Security Administration office of the courthouse.

Neighbor Collapses

Mrs. Milton Neff, West High Street, a close friend of the Kuhns family, fainted from excitement shortly after the tragedy. She was carried into her home and resuscitated. Mrs. Kuhns had spent the early part of the evening at the Neff home. She and her daughter had started to leave their home to call on Mr. and Mrs. Neff when Mr. and Mrs. Sobers drove up. Miss Veronica returned to the home with the callers and her mother went to Neffs where she remained for a short time before returning home, the tragedy happening a short time later.

Drs. Bert N. Coers and E. S. Shand and attaches of Berger Hospital worked throughout the night to relieve the suffering of the blast victims.

The bodies of Mrs. Kuhns and her daughter were taken to the M. S. Rinehart Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements will not be made until Mrs. Kuhns' only survivor, a sister who lives in Peru, Ind., arrives. Mrs. Kuhns was the widow of William Kuhns, whom she married September 20, 1904. He died October 6, 1928.

KENNEDY GOES IN ACTION, RAPS TAFT CAMPAIGN

Candidate For Governor Hits Cincinnati Who Runs For President

OTHERS READY TO BEGIN

Several Potential Aspirants On Democratic Ticket Considering Leap

COLUMBUS, Feb. 9 — Using a G.O.P. presidential possibility — U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft — as a target, former Secretary of State William J. Kennedy today fired the first heavy verbal barrage in the campaign for the Ohio Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Addressing the Wayne County Farmers Institute at Dalton, near Wooster, Kennedy fayed Taft as a "multi-millionaire" senator who went to Miami "to get his political advice and votes."

While he declined to amplify the latter assertion, political observers pointed out that Kennedy apparently meant Taft had arranged to be in Miami recently during a meeting of the American Federation of Labor's executive council to further his presidential aspirations. In his speech, the Clevelander also appealed for a "unity program" between farmers and "urban consumers."

Others In Action

Meanwhile, at least four other candidates prepared to swing into action in the pre-primary battle for votes, and there was a possibility that other party members and leaders would join the Democratic "free-for-all."

Those who have announced publicly they would seek the nomination are former Attorney General Herbert S. Duffey, Columbus; James T. Flynn, Sandusky attorney; Lawrence Baker, Columbus, and Frank A. Dye, Columbus attorney.

James Marker, Versailles, was expected to announce his candidacy next week. Democratic National Committeeman Charles Sawyer, Cincinnati, unsuccessful candidate in 1938, was expected to confirm or deny reports that he would be a candidate within a few days.

Still considered as possibilities in the Democratic contest were former Lieut. Gov. Harold G. Moses, former Gov. Martin L. Davey, Walter J. Heer, chairman of the Democratic executive committee in Franklin County, and John Owens, Columbus, president of the Ohio CIO and head of District Six of the United Mine Workers of America.

While competitors marked time, Kennedy appealed for rural and urban support in his Dalton speech. He asserted that a division between rural and urban Ohio has been responsible for legislative confusion during the last 10 or 15 years." He added:

"Too long have the Manufacturers' association, the Utilities, the Chamber of Commerce and the banking group been able to tie the tails of the rural and urban cats in a hard knot over the political clothes line, to claw and bite each other while their own tabby licks up the legislative cream."

Asks Opportunity

He intimated that he would put a stop to such alleged "affairs" if given an opportunity. Then he swung into the attack on Taft with the statement:

"Bob Taft, multi-millionaire United States Senator from Ohio is jibing the Democratic administration because it has spent money providing jobs for the jobless, pensions for those whom age and industry have worn out. That, Senator, Taft believes, is spending our way straight to revolution, or something like that."

"But the facts I have submitted raise another question which Senator Taft and his school of thought haven't asked. Well, some of us in this campaign are going to ask it, and we'll continue asking until our Junior Senator comes back from Miami, where he went to get his political advice and votes, and gives us an answer."

TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

BUSINESSMEN: I am pleased that you were represented at the Ohio Valley Flood Control Congress meeting this week in Portsmouth, but I am sorry that many, many more of our businessmen and farm friends could not have been on hand to have participated in the meeting and to have observed the enthusiasm that prevailed there. Robert Smith and William Radcliff who represented the Chamber of Commerce were surprised, even astounded, by the enthusiasm shown and the strength being gathered to demand enough money to put through a gigantic Ohio River Valley flood control program. It is imperative that if anything is to be done for our Scioto Valley farmers and property owners that concerted effort is imperative. No one or two persons will be able to obtain a couple of hundred thousand dollars for work in our valley. A powerful organization must be formed, and it must go to work in an earnest and straightforward manner. When the next flood control discussion is conducted I hope that the Chamber of Commerce, the Grange, the Farm Bureau and numerous other organizations can be represented by a large number of delegates. United effort can do much more than all the work of a few persons. Let's get busy now for next year's conference.

TO 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

YOUTHS: To all of you who are talented in any undertaking such as singing, playing a musical instrument, reading, or in anything else that can be broadcast this is a request that you file entry with F. K. Blair, county extension agent, for participation in the 4-H Club broadcast which will take place February 19 as a part of the Farm Hour over WOSU, Ohio State University. Mr. Blair is receiving entries for eliminations which will be conducted February 12 in St. Philip's Parish House. The boys and girls who appear to be best talented and whose work will be best for radio presentation will be selected. Who knows, maybe you can land a radio contract through this competition. Any way there will be a lot of fun for all who participate, and for many it may be the chance they have been awaiting to go on the air. All of you should enter so that the contest will be interesting.

CIRCUITEER.

TO OHIO U. ALUMNI

COLLEGIANS: The annual meeting of Ohio University alumni and former students will be conducted Saturday evening, February 10, in the American Hotel, and I hope that a large number of persons is present. Dr. H. R. James, president of the Athens, O., university, will be the speaker and he will be accompanied by Clark Williams, alumni secretary of the school. The meeting is certain to be a success because the Ohio University alumni organization is an active one and an effort has been made to get together a good audience for the school's chief executive. While on the subject of school reunions I wonder why more reunions of Circleville High School classes are not attempted, and just why the Ohio State University alumni in our county has become so lax that no effort is made to have an annual meeting. I hope that all Ohio U. grads and former students will be present to hear Dr. James and to enjoy the evening's fellowship.

CIRCUITEER.

TO MONDAY CLUB

LADIES: Orchids of the week go to you ladies and to your organization for continuing through the years and through your work making the Circleville community a better one in which to live. I doubt if many of the persons who participated in the organization of the Monday Club 50 years ago believed at that time that the unit would become a power in the community and that at the same time it would provide an outlet for much talent, musically and dramatically. The Monday Club has done a world of good in Circleville and I hope that it can continue to be a successful organization for another 50 years. Your organization's reputation is richly deserved.

FOLK: The annual Pickaway County basketball tournament, which has always been held in Circleville until this year, will open next Thursday in the new gymnasium at Atlanta. Five sessions will be conducted, three next week and two the following week, the finals to be on Saturday night. I hope that all sessions of the tournament attract large crowds because I feel certain that many good games will be played. Parents who have daughters appearing in the tournament should by all means be present because this is the last year that you will be able to

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

CONFIDENTIALLY, the Federal Bureau of Investigation doesn't take very seriously the plot, charged against 17 or 18 New Yorkers, to overthrow the United States government. That is to say, the bureau doesn't believe that the government is in any danger from a group of less than a score of alleged conspirators. Neither does it believe that this mere handful actually is representative of a larger organization which it's worth Uncle Sam's while to worry about.

The fact is that the bureau's personnel, talked to individually, has too keen a sense of humor to work itself into a lather over such a threat, considered as of national proportions.

The bureau's director, J. Edgar Hoover, does indeed appear to think that he's discovered a real mare's nest. His underlings naturally don't officially disagree with him. Talked to personally, however, under pledge of secrecy, they generally concur with Manhattan Mayor La Guardia to the effect that New York City's 18,000 policemen are a great plenty to deal with the 17 or 18 marplots whom the FBI is accusing.

I have my doubts that Director Hoover himself is greatly perturbed concerning the situation, regarded as a sure-enough revolutionary peril. I suspect that he simply wants to make it look as bad as possible, by way of attracting public attention to it. Maybe this is in part due to a desire to get into the limelight as a perfectly wonderful detective. Or maybe he's trying to advertise what he views as an incipient danger.

It must be conceded that a very tin-horn conspiracy can develop into an assassination of major proportions — the killing of a president, for instance. But this alleged plot isn't so described; this is supposed to be preliminary to a revolution.

Of course, the FBI or the Secret Service or the local police or anybody is entitled to head off a plot of that kind.

ILICIT ARSENALS

The FBI does seem to have dug up some illicit arms and ammunition hiding places. Guns, explosives and sword were included. The guns didn't amount to much — little .32-caliber rifles versus .45-caliber shooting irons, and some shotguns, fit to puncture ducks with.

Still, the Sullivan law, in New York state, prohibits the possession of lethal weapons without proper authorization.

But the unauthorized possession of arms is a state offense. It isn't any business of the FBI. That is, it isn't any of the FBI's affair unless the federal government is being plotted against.

It must be conceded that a very tin-horn conspiracy can develop into an assassination of major proportions — the killing of a president, for instance. But this alleged plot isn't so described; this is supposed to be preliminary to a revolution.

Of course, the FBI or the Secret Service or the local police or anybody is entitled to head off a plot of that kind.

Is there any prospect of it?

Director Hoover of the FBI would have us think so.

The Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Reading returned to Toledo after a visit with Mrs. Reading's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Watts.

A. C. Cook was named vice president of the Citizens Budget Co., Chillicothe. He was also a director of the company.

$85,000 BAIL

The revolt plotters' bail foots $85,000.

It serves 'em right, no doubt. But isn't it ridiculous?

It's serio-comic.

It's disagreeable.

It isn't probable, either.

It's impossible. The question is: Isn't some nut liable to kill somebody?

That's what frets the FBI.

Relaxing Even While at Work

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

What definite good comes from relaxation treatment?

Relaxation is advocated by Jacobson as of considerable value in functional nervous disorders. I agree with one of my readers, H. F. D., Plainfield, N. J., who makes this suggestion for us:

"Every book or article I have read on the subject of relaxation misses the point entirely in that they always speak of 'periods of relaxation.' While these 'periods' are valuable, what the world needs instruction about is continuous relaxation while at work. Don't put more effort in your work than is just necessary to accomplish the task. For example, don't put ten pounds of energy working when you have one or two pounds to lift. This attitude should take effect immediately the day's work is confronted, and should be kept in mind during the entire day. Once this mental attitude is acquired and the habit fixed, the most amazing results as to the postponement of fatigue ensue. Few persons think of the difference between doing a thing rapidly and doing it hurriedly. Rapidly implies relaxation with corresponding accuracy and skill. Hurriedly implies tension, generally mental confusion, and poor result with attending dissatisfaction. Elbert Hubbard of the Roycroft Shops, East Aurora, N. Y., was the most relaxed worker I ever knew. The amount of work he did all the time was simply prodigious, yet he never seemed to tire, and never had a sick day in his whole life. Actually, in our everyday life there are not many times when really heavy work confronts us, but, when it does, all the more reason for our approaching the job relaxed, mentally and physically. Tension is ruination in the end, and as to "worry" why not, as Scarlett O'Hara did, "do that tomorrow?"

Business Women to Give $50 for Band Uniforms

Club Has Meeting At Mary Morris Residence

The Business and Professional Women's Club has decided to donate $50 to the uniform fund of the Circleville High School Band. This was arranged during the business session following the dinner meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mary G. Morris, Watt Street. The money will be taken from the educational fund of the organization.

A delightful dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. to 14 club members.

Mrs. Mary Howard, president, was in the chair and directed the business of the evening. An invitation was read for the club to attend a birthday party of the Logan club, Sunday. Several members of the Circleville club plan to accept.

The club also decided to have the next session Wednesday, February 21, when the group will attend the annual Washington's Birthday supper of the Methodist Church. The business meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Morrison, East Main Street.

Mrs. Harriett Hennessy headed the program committee, and presented Mrs. Anna Chandler who read an interesting article on the life of Lincoln using as her subject, "He Could Take It".

Miss Elma Rains, affirmative, and Mrs. Harry Stevenson, negative, debated the question, "Reciprocal Trade Treaties". The question was taken from the Independent Woman, the monthly paper of the organization.

Mrs. Morrison interested the group with her paper on "How Lincoln was influenced by his Wife".

Baha'i Group

The Circleville Baha'i Group met Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham, East Mound Street.

Mrs. J. O. Eagleson gave a talk on the subject of "Successive Manifestation", bringing out the difference between literal and spiritual interpretation of the scriptures.

Mrs. R. P. Heiskell presented the subject of "Constructive Means Toward Peace". Her climax was the thought that only the power of the Holy Spirit at work in the hearts of men can end the tragedy of war.

During the social hour the hostess served refreshments.

Whisler Ladies' Aid

The Whisler Ladies' Aid Society held its February session at the home of Mrs. Winnie Hamilton of that community with Mrs. Melissa Rossiter and Mrs. Cora Minshall assisting in entertainment.

After group singing, the devotional service was led by Mrs. Ada Heffner. Routine business was transacted and the flower committee submitted its report.

Miss Jennie Moss and Mrs. Lulu Rechelderfer were in charge of several interesting contests. Refreshments in keeping with St. Valentine's Day were served to 18 members and 11 visitors.

The hostess for the March meeting will be Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Virginia Minshall and Mrs. Irene Fulgham.

Real Folks' Club

The Real Folks' Club met Thursday with Mrs. S. B. Chambers of East Mound Street, all members being present for the occasion. Mrs. Minnie Debolt and Mrs. Hunter Chambers were guests for the afternoon.

Contests and an informal social hour were enjoyed, after which the hostess served refreshments appropriate to the Valentine season.

Mrs. Alva Shasteen of North Pickaway Street has invited the group to meet with her for the March meeting.

Art Sewing Club

Mrs. Chester Valentine will entertain the members of the Art Sewing Club at a luncheon Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Hurricane, New American Hotel. The luncheon has been substituted for the meeting announced for the

For Friday, February 9

A PROMISING and pleasant day, with lively and lucrative conditions in all phases of living, is forecast from interesting lunar transits and mutual aspects.

The mind is under very progressive but profound and sober urges, making for definite accomplishment in the direction of fulfilled ambitions.

Social, emotional and affectional qualities are also under deep and stabilizing impetus, which may tend to promote social or romantic enterprise.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of progress and profit, largely through the exercise of a shrewd, astute and profound state of mind. This may inspire constructive ambitions which are likely to attract co-operation from influential sources. However, the social sentimental and festive proclivities are likely to accent some very happy and important experiences.

A child born in this day, while keenly intellectual, studious, hard-working and dependable, may have strong social and congenial proclivities, combining to make a successful and happy life.

Taxation Committee Meets
Soon With Auditor To Talk Land Transfer

Circleville Chamber of Commerce directors started to plan Thursday evening for a Manufacturers' and Farmers' Week which will be conducted in Circleville the week of February 26 and during which displays of products manufactured in Circleville and displays of corn soybeans will be established.

One particular day of the week, as yet not determined, will be put aside for a corn and soybean institute with prizes to be provided, a program arranged for the evening and food to be served by the Chamber.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes that this will be a great event," Ray E. Rowland, president of the organization, said Friday, "and all our efforts are being centered on the undertaking."

Committees headed by Irvin W. Kinsey and Dwight Steele will be in charge of arrangements for the celebration.

Stebleton Named

The Chamber directors named Elmer W. Stebleton, manager of the Kroger store, to the directorate to replace Frank A. Lynch, who resigned declaring that his business and his health prevented him from applying himself to the task as he believed a director should apply himself. Mr. Stebleton has accepted the appointment.

The taxation and legislation committee headed by Clark Will was instructed to meet as soon as possible with County Auditor Forrest Short to discuss the effort of the auditor to prevent the government from removing more than 3,500 acres of Scioto Farms Rural Resettlement land from the tax duplicate. Short has refused to permit removal of the land despite government requests.

The Chamber is revising its solicitation committee and when this work is completed approval of the committee will be required before any member of the Chamber of Commerce contributes to any fund or participates in any campaign. The Chamber members will be provided with cards showing that committee approval must be received before any solicitation will receive support.

The Chamber of Commerce added 22 new members during the last week.

YOUTH TO FACE COURT IN DEATH OF TELEGRAPHER

BELLEFONTAINE, Feb. 9—Don Slater, 18, was to be arraigned on first degree murder charges today growing out of the slaying of Fred Jenkins, 56, at whose nearby Hustsville home the youth roomed.

Mrs. Minnie Jenkins, 47, the widow, and her 18-year-old son, Merlin, pleaded not guilty when arraigned on similar charges late yesterday. Bond for Mrs. Jenkins was set at $50,000 and for Merlin, at $25,000, by Magistrate H. H. Newell.

Slater has allegedly confessed the hammer-slaying, implicating Mrs. Jenkins and her son. He said Jenkins' abuse of his family prompted the killing.

Meanwhile, funeral services for
